

VARIED SIDELIGHTS ON THE WAR NOT QUITE SO GRIM AND TRAGIC AS "THE RED LIGHT OF MARS"

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
A PARISIAN FASHION MODEL PAYS HER RESPECTS TO THE WOUNDED
And pays them in her own way, with flowers! The Elysee Palace Hotel is now a hospital, and it is from the balcony that the arm stretches down to receive the tribute of the little Parisienne.

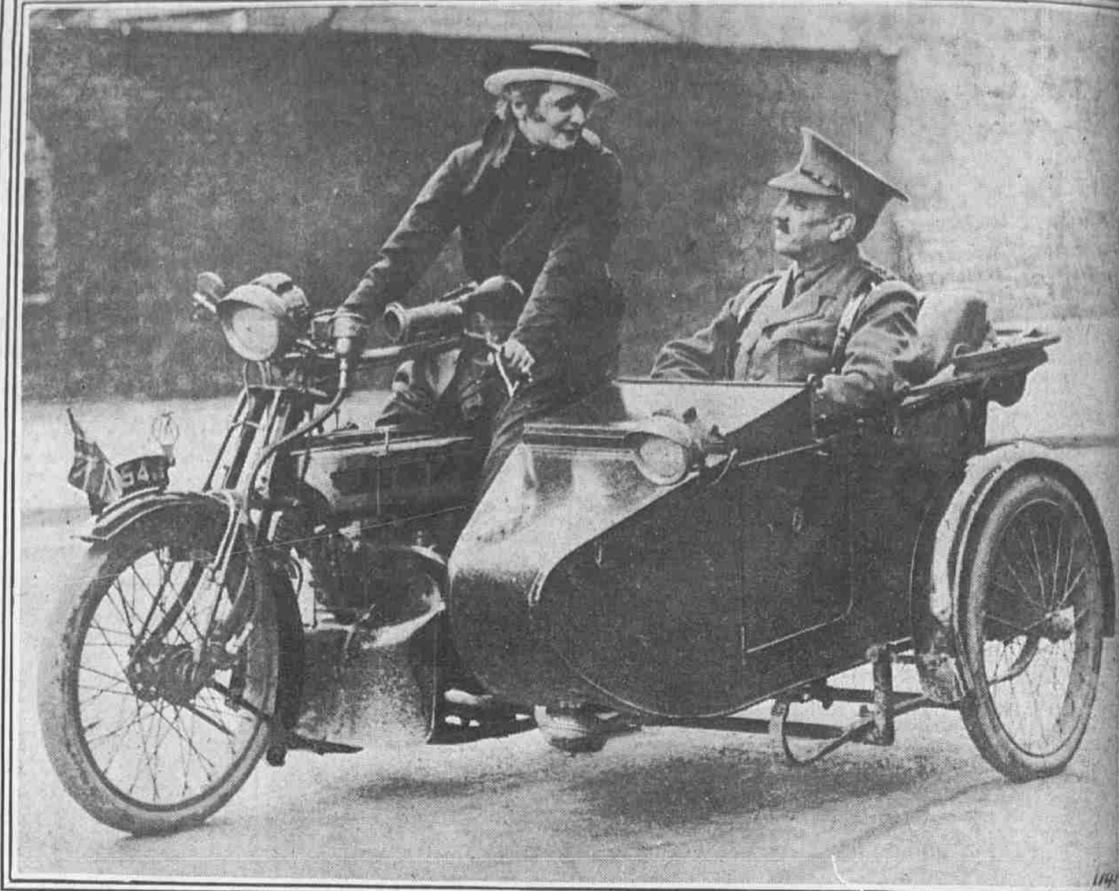

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
GABY DESLYS TAKES AN ALLY OUT MOTORCYCLING
The daintiest of music hall queens is shown in a tender moment, taking a wounded Tommy Atkins for a not too exciting joy ride. It is rumored, by the way, that Portugal is presently to go to war.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
CHORUS GIRLS AS RECRUITERS
They are from the famous Revues of London and are making up to the sergeant to encourage the laggard youths.

AFTER AN EXPEDITION WITH THE AERIAL SCOUTING CORPS
The heavy felt boot being rescued from the leg of this scout was put on against the cold. Men going on scouting flights are relieved every two hours.

Photo by Modern Photo Service.
WOMEN ARE ACTING AS BARBERS IN BERLIN
Shaving is a shade more pleasant in that city since women are doing the work.